Guest Speaker: Alisha Hobart

Aprodigiously talented and committed real estate professional, Alisha Hobart in just 6 years has established an enviable reputation within the real estate industry. Not only did she win an award as a novice auctioneer, she was a finalist in the REIV Senior Auctioneer of the Year competition in 2010. After many years working in the Mornington Peninsula, Alisha is now a highly valued member of Andrew Hayne's team at Marshall White in Armadale.

Her dedication to providing not only exceptional service but also outstanding results for her clients has seen her set price records on a regular basis. Even though she is a sought after speaker at real estate seminars across the country, Alisha regularly attends training sessions herself to constantly improve her skills and knowledge base so she can provide her clients with the very best, considered advice.

Come along and be inspired from one of the country's leading female auctioneers and let her show you that you can do it too. It could be your major point of difference in a listing presentation.

The ability to conduct your own auction truly understand the whole process offers you a lot of respect when you are sitting in front of any possible vendor.

So what's holding you back? Just yourself . . .
